General Comment

The National Park Service (NPS) has reviewed the advanced notice of proposed rulemaking to establish a new control date in the interest of controlling future access to the commercial wreckfish sector of the snapper-grouper fishery operating in the exclusive economic zone of the South Atlantic.

A review was conducted of the proposed rule on August 25, 2011. Based on the information provided, the proposed rule will not have any adverse affects to NPS resources.

Thank you for including the NPS in your review.
